

Women Who Ride Conga III for Breast Cancer

The Conga III is a ride of mainly lady riders from all points of North America. The past 2 years the ride has started in Hudson, FL and ended in Campbell River, BC. This year a Meet in the Middle ride is planned so that all those that wish to join in can. The meeting point is in Cheyenne, WY on July 7, 8, 9, 2010. We will spend 3 days here, celebrating, riding and getting to know each other. So far there are 2 confirmed conga lines converging on Wyoming. First off leaving from Campbell River, BC, with the originator of the ride, heading south with her entourage and picking up many others along route. Another line is heading north from Texas. You can join in either line or start another to meet up for the celebrations in Wyoming. Last year the Conga raised over $12,000 towards the fight against breast cancer and are hoping to surpass that mark this year. You can help us in 3 ways, first off, be a part of the Conga and join in for the ride. Help us raise money to the fight against Breast Cancer. We are also looking for sponsors and donations for the ride.

Come on now, don't be shy, that irresistible rumble of the Conga is hard to ignore.

Why not join in the fun!

You can make a secure online donation directly or search out the riders name and donate to them at <https://secure.e2rm.com/registrator/LoginRegister.aspx?EventID=43156&LangPref=en-CA>
